New Leaflet To List Local Attractions

At a recent meeting of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce it was decided to publish a leaflet listing the various points of interest in and around Bethel, this leaflet to be given to hotels and homes taking summer guests in order to make their stay in Bethel as interesting as possible.

The following list has been compiled by a committee appointed by the Chamber and will be submitted for approval at the next meeting. The committee will appreciate any additions or changes in this list that will make it of more value to summer visitors. The members are Guy Butler, Stanley Davis and Charles Heywood.

1. Albany Basins: Eleven miles south on Route 5, take sharp right gravel road for about one mile, Park car at end of road and follow private road through field, picking up National Park Service trail signs in woods. Basins or potholes formed in gorge of Albany Brook.
2. Greenwood Ice Caverns: At Locke Mills take road along west shore of South Pond and Twitchell Pond. About 1/4 mile south of Twitchell Pond take woods road on right, parking car at that point. Follow woods road about 1 1/4 miles to where it meets cross road, continuing left on well traveled road about 1/2 mile to where well traveled road turns sharp right. Continue straight ahead about 300 feet where small sign indicates trail to caverns veering off to right of the road. (Well traveled road to right is private road to Uncle Tom Mine.) Continue on trail about 1/2 mile to caverns.
3. Artist's Bridge: Take Sunday River Road 2 1/2 miles east of Bethel on Route 2, bridge being 1/2 mile from Route 2. Covered bridge was built in 1871 and is maintained as a monument by Town of Newry, road now using a new bridge.
4. Sunday River Gorge: Gorge is three miles north of the Artist's.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Welfare expenditures for April for eight town cases amounted to $223.87. Broken down as follows: food, $83.00; board and room, $101.92; medical, $41.31; fuel, $17.64. One new case was accepted and two discontinued. At the beginning of May there were five active cases. Four of the five are currently receiving some form of public assistance and the town is supplementing this. Usually either medical requirements or board and room. The fifth case has applied for public assistance but has not yet been accepted. There are no cases at the present time that are receiving aid by reason of unemployment. The principal reasons for aid are sickness and inability to work due to age.

There were two cases with settlements on other towns that were added in April. One was discontinued before the end of the month. Eight state cases received aid during the month in the amount of $309.03. Broken down as follows: food, $115.31; board and room, $87.00; medical $239.50. Two cases were discontinued during the month, no new ones accepted.

Public Assistance is more commonly known as Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, and Aid to the Disabled.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

SUNDAY FIRE RUINS STORAGE BUILDING

The garage building of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robertson at the rear of their home on Chapman Street (the former Platted place) was damaged beyond repair Sunday afternoon. Also lost were the contents stored overhead, which included old sleighs, harness and miscellaneous articles. Cause of the fire is not known. There was some insurance.

The location of the building, near to buildings on Chapman, Main and Philbrook Streets, could have resulted in serious loss if the blaze had not been discovered in time. The building was built and used for winter storage of automobiles, before the days of plowed highways.

STUART TELLS PTA OF CONSERVATION PROJECT — COMMITTEE REPORTS

The ninth meeting of the Bethel PTA was held at the Crescent Park School on May 20.

The project committee chairman gave a complete report from his committee which has worked hard with the teachers as to what they wanted the earnings of the PTA to be spent for the past year.

Amy Davis reported for the nominating committee giving the slate of officers for the coming year: President, Edith Eyppe; Vice-President, Roland Glines; Secretary, Mary Paine; Treasurer, Ethel Bisbee. Mrs. Bisbee will appoint an assistant to help her in the fall. The secretary cast one ballot to elect officers which was voted on by the group.

President Edith Eyppe very graciously thanks all of her committee members for the past year.

The door prize was won by Frances Saunders and donated by Emily Saunders.

The third grade won the attendance banner.

The guest speaker of the evening was Larry Stuart, Conservation Educator from Augusta. He told of the aims and progress of the Freeman Waterhouse Conservation School at Bryant Pond on Lake Christopher. His slides were on the class and field trips of the teachers studying there last year. They are encouraging Maine teachers and on weekends children from various groups such as 4-H and Scouts to attend. They will also receive supervised training in the outdoors.

Committee Report

Our committee, made up of Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Gunther and myself have spent considerable time visiting schools and talking to the teachers to determine the things most needed or desired by the outlying schools as well as the two in town.

Some items which were mentioned as needed seemed to come under the category of maintenance rather than as projects for this organization so we have discussed them with our superintendent and find that they are already scheduled for attention before the fall term. With such items out of the way we concerned ourselves with the following which the committee recommends to this meeting for formal action:

1. An air cooled strip film projector with slide attachment and carrying case; 300 watt model and a 40"x10" portable beaded screen and tripod. The projector will cost $22.50 and the screen $21.00; a total of $43.50 for the items.

Such equipment is needed at the primary school as well as in the three outlying schools and the committee feels that two such units are needed, one from the primary school and one to rotate among the three smaller schools. In discussing the needs with Mr. Christie he has advised that one such unit could be purchased out of school funds thus leaving only one to be purchased by P. T. A. if you agree.

2. Two outlying schools need encyclopedias adapted to the lower grades and the desired one seems to be Child's World at a cost of $20.00 per set. Here again Mr. Christie advises that the school will purchase one set and this leaves only one set needed to be bought by P. T. A. if approved.

Two of the outlying schools, namely East Bethel and West Bethel are badly in need of textbooks. Bethel has a portable one which is quite new and satisfactory. The recommended textbooks are double units of the same make and similar design as those bought for the primary school. These cost $4.00 each and the estimated freight would bring the cost of two double textbooks to approximately $10.00. The school system will arrange and pay for the installation.

4. To make the strip film projectors useful to the children they should be provided with a starting library of film subjects and the committee recommends allowing $20 for such films to be purchased by the school authorities whereby they can best be coordinated with the subject matter being taught.

As you are probably all aware a new reading program is being instituted into the system next fall and the need for supplementary books is great. The committee would suggest that the balance of $200 to $250 be allocated to the purchase of suitable books to be selected by the teachers with the approval of the board.

best adjust the subject matter to the work involved.

Respectfully submitted,
Dana C. Deane, Jr.

ACROSS the DESK

From the Catskill Mountains Star, Bangerter, N. Y.: Just three years ago . . . the Dalk vaccine was effectively pronounced safe and effective and licensed for use by the U. S. Government.

Since then, the polio picture in this country has undergone a radical change. Before the Dalk vaccine we struggled with an erratic but mounting series of polio epidemics that reached their peak in 1952 with 47,070 cases. Last year, owing to widespread vaccination, the number dropped to 5,231. By this time it is clear that the Dalk vaccine, developed on grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is one of the triumphant milestones in the history of modern medical science.

The first year it was given mainly to grade school children—some 10 million of them. The second year it was made available to young persons up to 20 and expected mothers, and some 25 million were injected. Last year a crash vaccination program directed at all persons under 40 added 23 million more, making a total of 63 million.

A big job done in a remarkably short time.

But not enough. For Earl O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, warns us that, with 46 million Americans still unvaccinated, we may still have polio epidemics next summer.

The answer? There is enough vaccine for everybody now, regardless of age. It's painless. It's inexpensive. It's effective protection against a lifetime of paralysis.

From the Barnstable Star, Barnstable, Mass.: Three minutes in a lifetime is nothing. They pass in a flash, like the blinking of an eye. Yet in three minutes tremendous things, both good and bad, can happen. In three minutes a life can be made or broken, a city can be wiped out by an earthquake, a whole nation can be plunged into joy or grief.

In three minutes, for instance, a man can be infected by a polio virus which may knock him flat on his back for the rest of his life. Or, in three minutes, he can get three shots of Dalk vaccine—at 50 seconds per shot—and be saved from a lifetime of crippling.

What's more, if you're one of these 46 million unvaccinated Americans, you're encouraging the outbreak of new polio epidemics in your community. Not till everybody has received his series of three Dalk shots will the dread plague of paralytic polio be completely wiped out in this country.

MAN'S RECIPE

SUNNY ACRES RHUBARB PIE - We have National Associations for practically everything these days, and it seems to me that all rhubarb enthusiasts should get together to promote this delightful pie and sauce material. A letter came along from a reader asking how I first became interested in experimenting with this petiole crop.

I don't remember specifically what fired my imagination in the first place, but in 1933 I began working with it. Over the years I have increased the plants to the present 112 hills. I like the MacDonald variety better than the Valentine, although the latter has a beautifully pink sauce.

Next month I will give Blanche's outstanding rhubarb pudding. This is superb eating and some of our friends and food critics say they rate rhubarb pudding ahead of rhubarb pie. I'm an old-fashioned, conservative farmer and I will still put pie in top place. Two months from now, I will use Blanche's recipe for rhubarb shortbread - a wonderful dessert in hot weather. Keep your rhubarb hills mulched and watered occasionally and you will have succulent stems into September.

Use three cups of rhubarb cut into one half inch pieces, one and a fourth cups sugar, one and a half tablespoons flour, and butter or margarine.

I like the undercrust a whiffletree than usual. Mix the sugar and flour together and put one fourth cupful over the bottom crust. Put in half the rhubarb; scatter half the remaining sugar and flour. Put in the rest of the rhubarb and then spread the balance of the sugar-flour mix.

After a dozen bits of butter the size of a bluebird's egg float on the top crust. Bake at 400 for about 45-50 minutes, or until done. I don't necessarily put rhubarb pie ahead of apple, but at this time of year, a rhubarb pie certainly has the spot. Hayden G. Pearson.

Things are sure to human affairs when they are made out of good and power, but of humanity and the love of truth. Walter Lippman.

Conservation Farming

In Oxford County

By Lyman W. Jacobson

It is soil mapping time again. Sheldon Michaels, Soil Scientist of the Soil Conservation Service is in the county this week. "Mike" maps farms in Oxford, Cumberland and York counties. A soils map shows the soil types and their capabilities. It is a valuable tool in arriving at a plan for best land use and types of crops or forage adapted to the farm.

Soils maps will be prepared for Harold Shaw, Paris, Reginald Kimball, Oxford, Cammack Brothers, Houghton, and Norman Gray, of Fryeburg.

John McKeen of Wesso Orchards, West Paris, plans to install 700 feet of tile and construct a pond this summer. Clarence Everett, Oxford, plans to build a pond. Reg Kimball plans open drainage and shrub control in pasture land. James Young, Buckfield, plans a tile line and spring development. Carl Mahoney of Canton plans a spring development for stock water. Former District Supervisor or Laurence Marston, Watford, just stopped by and requested assistance on a farm pond.

Interest is being revived in a group drainage project at Canton Point. This proposed drainage project would be over a mile long and include some six land owners.

It is the general rule of life that should you touch mud with your gloves, it is never the mud that becomes gloved.
